

IME Newsletter Volume 10

Happy Friday and happy first day of November! November is Indigenous Peoples' Heritage Month -- celebrate with IME! We have lots of events throughout the month, so stay tuned for more information.

For PDF versions and archives, visit the IME website or click this link.

What's Happening

Here's what's in this week's IME Newsletter:

IME Events and News

- IME Election Day Self-Care
- Let it Out during the Let Out! Process the Elections with Good Company (see Elections section)
- IME & OEI: First-Generation Celebration Gathering Dinner
- IME x ISS Postcard Event
- GEM: Censorship Wokeshop

Indigenous Peoples' Heritage Month

- Calendar of Events
- NAYA Culture Night
- Sleeping Native Languages: Revitalization through Storytelling

More Events and News

- Bold and Embodied: Call for Models!
- Volunteer opportunities for the Ray Warren Symposium on Race and Ethnic Studies

- Blood Drive
- Donation Drive for IRCO & The Refugee Care Collective
- Unpacking Accountability: What Are We Asking For? Conversation with Oregon Humanities
- Jackson Bottom Wetlands Native Planting

Elections and Current Events

- Let it Out during the Let Out! Process the Elections with Good Company

IME Events and News

IME Election Day Self-Care

Tuesday, November 5

4:30-6:00

IME Suite

Feeling a bit overwhelmed during this election season? We get it, it can be a lot. Come to the IME Suite for some donuts, hot drinks, self-care packages, and community. Tuesday, November 5th from 4:30 to 6pm.

Email multicultural@lclark.edu with any questions or concerns.

IME & OEI First-Generation Celebration Gathering Dinner

Friday, November 8th

4:00-5:30pm

Gregg Pavilion

November 8th is National First-Generation Celebration Day! All are welcome to join the First-Gen Celebration Gathering for dinner, jeopardy, prizes, and first-gen merch!

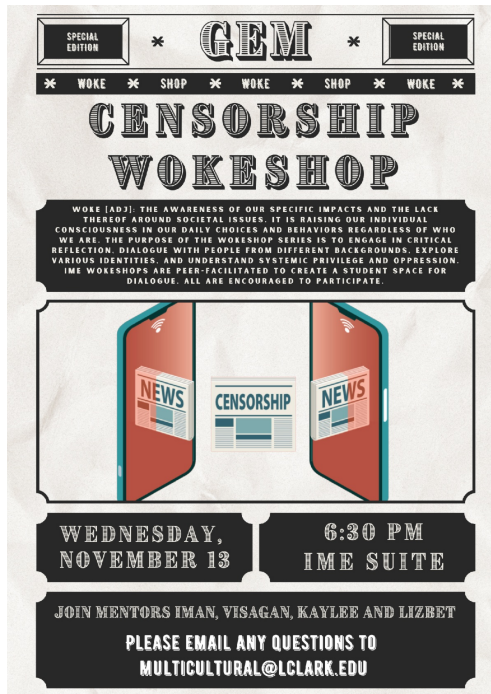

Please RSVP to help with food count.

RSVP
Here

IME x ISS Postcard Event

Wednesday, November 13
4:00-6:00pm
IME Suite

Missing home? Join IME for a cozy postcard event to send a note back to loved ones! We'll have everything you need to write and decorate your letter, plus cookies and tea to keep you company. Let's make connections across the miles!

Censorship Wokeshop

Wednesday, November 13
6:30-7:30pm
IME Suite

Join the Inclusion & Multicultural Engagement (IME) office for an engaging Wokeshop on censorship and how it impacts our day-to-day. We'll cover what censorship means, and its various forms (political, moral, etc.), and explore real-world examples.

Together, we'll discuss this topic's impact on creativity, culture, and the role of social media in both enforcing and challenging censorship.

Indigenous Peoples' Heritage Month

November is Indigenous Peoples' Heritage Month! Celebrate with IME! See the graphic below for the list of events. Please email multicultural@lclark.edu or NSU@lclark.edu for further details or questions!

NAYA Culture Night: Papel Picado

Wednesday, Nov. 6th
6:00-7:30pm
Off-campus, RSVP required

Join Native Student Union and IME on an off-campus field trip to participate in the Native American Youth and Family Center's Culture Night! Dinner is provided and we will be guided through hands-on workshops that center Indigenous practices and crafts (email NSU for further details if interested, and waitlist)

RSVP
Here

Sleeping Native Languages: Revitalization Through Storytelling

Tuesday, November 19th
6:00pm
Akin Lounge

Join us for a powerful evening of storytelling

SLEEPING NATIVE LANGUAGES:
REVITALIZATION
THROUGH STORYTELLING

Tuesday, November 19th
6:00 pm at Akin Lounge

Join us for a powerful evening of storytelling as we celebrate Indigenous Peoples' Heritage Month, featuring voices from the Native community sharing experiences, culture, and resilience.

Jordan Douglas-Tavani

Dr. Jordan AG Douglas-Tavani recently finished his Ph.D in Linguistics at the University of California, Santa Barbara. Jordan is an enrolled member of the Central Council of Tlingit & Haida Indians of Alaska. His work is centered on indigenous language description and revitalization. For the last 5 years, Jordan has worked with the Confederated Tribes of Coos, Lower Umpqua, and Siuslaw Indians on revitalizing one of their tribal languages: miluk thlis. He is interested in complex morphosyntax and linguistic typology and language contact within the Pacific Northwest.

Questions? Email IME at Multicultural@lclark.edu with Jordan Douglas-Tavani as we celebrate Indigenous Peoples' Heritage Month.

featuring voices from the Native community sharing experiences, culture, and resilience.

More Events and News

Call for Models!

As part of the 21st Annual Ray Warren Symposium on Race and Ethnic Studies, we are organizing a fashion show to celebrate the stories behind our style and participants are needed to make it happen.

This event is an invitation for students and other L&C community members to share the cultural identities, ethnic backgrounds, religious traditions, and racialized forms of expression that help them fashion a sense of personal style and create narratives of who they are.

- Event info: Fri. Nov. 15, 3:30-4:30 in Smith Hall Self styled!
- Wear what has meaning to you! Show off your favorite accessories and fabrics: Casual, Slutty, Subversive, Lazy, or Formal ヾ(´▽`)/
- No experience necessary
- Open to L&C community and L&C alumni
- 4 hour time commitment max (one dress rehearsal and some brief outfit descriptions)

Learn more and volunteer by reaching out to coordinator: Leannerobinson@lclark.edu

Click the link to sign up!

Bold and Embodied: Call for Models!

As part of the 21st annual Ray Warren Symposium on Race and Ethnic Studies, we are organizing a fashion show to celebrate the stories behind our style, and participants are needed to make it happen. This event is an invitation for students and other L&C community members to share the cultural identities, ethnic backgrounds, religious traditions, and racialized forms of expression that help them fashion a sense of personal style and create narratives of who they are.

Learn more and volunteer to model by reaching out to our coordinator: leannerobinson@lclark.edu.

Volunteer to Model!

Volunteer Opportunities for the Ray Warren Symposium on Race and Ethnic Studies

Are you interested in getting involved in this year's symposium? We are excited to share various volunteer opportunities for this year's symposium, On the Border!

L&C students, faculty, and staff are invited to sign up through a google spreadsheet linked here :) You can sign up by adding a comment to any activity/shift you want to do.

Questions? Email us: rwchairs@lclark.edu.

21st Annual Ray Warren Symposium
on Race and Ethnic Studies

Volunteer Opportunities

POSTERS
Volunteers will hang posters in designated areas across campus.

JRHH INFO TABLE
Volunteers will distribute information, answer questions, and inform students passing by of the symposium and its events.

DOOR USHER
Door Ushers will welcome audience members, answer questions, and turn people away when the events are full/closed.

RACE MONOLOGUES ROOM MONITOR
Room Monitors will assist in directing people to empty seats and remind people to turn off and put away devices/notebooks.

Sign up via the Google Sheet

Sign Up to Volunteer!

Blood Drive

Monday, November 11
9:00am-3:00pm
Stamm

Come save lives by donating blood! Bloodworks Northwest will be visiting campus to give you a hand.

All blood receives immediate, comprehensive testing so that it can be available to more than 90 regional hospitals – usually in less than 24 hours after donation. Your donation will immediately be put to use in helping your community!

Donation Drive for IRCO & The Refugee Care Collective

Donations from Nov. 4-18

The Center for Social Change is hosting a service opportunity in collaboration with the Immigrant and Refugee Community Organization (IRCO) and the Refugee care Collective. We'll be hosting a drive all over campus to create Kits for refugee and immigrant families in Oregon. Most refugees arrive to Oregon with few possessions, and you can help them rebuild their lives by

Unpacking Accountability: What Are We Asking For? Conversation with Oregon Humanities

Thursday, November 14th

4:00-5:30pm

Fowler 353

Calls for accountability—for our leaders, for people who have caused harm, or for our communities—are common, but what exactly is being sought is often elusive. This one word may mean punishment, responsibility, and much more. What do you mean when you say “accountability,” and how can we elevate the value of accountability in our communities?

Sign Up
Here

Jackson Bottom Wetlands Native Planting

Friday, November 15th

10am-1pm

Transportation provided sign u, link below

Being stewards of the environment is a responsibility we can all share and take joy in. Let's get your hands dirty and your lungs full of fresh air at the Jackson Bottom Wetlands where you'll hike out to plant native species that support one of Oregon's vital wetland habitats.

Please bring warm clothing and footwear suitable for hiking. Equipment will be provided to help you volunteer.

Sign Up here

Elections and Current Events

Let it Out during the Let Out! Process the Elections with Good Company

The Let Out is a space which centers on the BIPOC experience at college and how mental health plays a part in this experience. All are welcome to participate in this space through listening and supporting each other. Join Christabel during the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of each month, 5:30-6:30pm in Lower Odell room 008.

On Oct. 30th and Nov. 6th, IME and the Counseling Center will hold space for anyone who wants to process the U.S. elections. We will offer pizza during these events for attendees to dine and process.

Visit the IME Suite on the 3rd floor of Fowler: 9-5pm Monday to Friday

Interested in submitting something to be added to the IME Newsletter?

If you would like to submit something to be added to the IME newsletter, please fill out the form below. The IME newsletter goes out every Friday morning. All submissions to make it into the weekly newsletter must be done by Thursday at 8am or they will be put in the next week's newsletter.

Submit to the IME
Newsletter

Stay Connected with IME

Lewis & Clark College | 0615 SW Palatine Hill Rd. | Portland, OR 97219 US

Unsubscribe | Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Try email marketing for free today!