

THE L&C BUZZ

Hi, new student!

Lewis & Clark is located in the lush hills of South Portland, the city's "sixth quadrant." (Yes, you read that right . . .) But our beautiful campus isn't the entire story—our location offers an ideal setting in a vibrant, progressive city with endless networking, entertainment, and cultural resources.

You can engage with the Portland communities of your choosing: visual and performing arts supported by a strong DIY-culture; activists and allies; tech companies and corporate headquarters; entrepreneurs, foodies, sustainability advocates; and many, many more. As a student, you will get direct access to the city and all it offers.

Portland also provides countless professional opportunities, and our new Career Accelerator will connect you to paid, project-based internship classes that will give you a robust foundation for future career success. This initiative is funded by a $5 million dollar commitment from a member of our Board of Trustees, a clear reflection of the board's belief in Lewis & Clark's innovative approach to student success.

We're so excited to welcome you to campus and show you all the beauty and benefits of the city you'll call home for the next four (and maybe more?) years!

Advice From a Current Student

“I recommend joining a club that you wouldn’t normally sign up for. It’s a great way to meet new people and potentially find a new hobby.”
