

THE L&C BUZZ

Hi, new student!

You'll be arriving on the L&C campus SO SOON!

We understand that your transition is unique, so we've put you in a group with fellow transfer students, giving you an immediate connection with peers who share a similar experience. Your group will be led by an upper-level student who will serve as your New Student Peer Mentor (NSPM).

NSPMs are a friendly face and a go-to resource who will answer your questions, connect you with the L&C community, and guide you throughout your first semester. In addition to one-on-one check-ins, your NSPM will host fun events to help you connect with other new students.

Your NSPM sent you an introductory email last week. (Check your spam folder if you don't see it, and let us know if you can't track it down.) Be sure to respond to the email, as this is a great chance to introduce yourself and start connecting with your peers right away!

A Note on Mentorship

If you prefer to integrate with first-year students or receive mentorship directly from an First-Year Experience staff member during the fall semester, please take a moment to fill out our Peer Mentor Preference Form to let us know.

Tips From Your Peer Mentors

We asked our NSPMs for their best advice for new students. Here's what they had to say:

- "Get to know people in your classes! Study groups with class peers are some of the best ways to meet people you wouldn't otherwise meet in clubs or around your dorm."
—Delilah Baldwin
- "My biggest tip for new students is to try something new every day, whether it's exploring a new area on campus, joining a new club, or meeting a new person."
—Olympia Gumedé
- "Get to know your professors. They are always ready to get to know you and help out in any way they can."
—Leslie Santiago Andres
